"8. I am generally in accord with recommendation J. However, the main difficulty has been in regard to the classification of proof-reading positions. Repeated attempts have been made to have these positions upgraded, but the Position Evaluation Division of the Office of Personnel has maintained that proof reading is a low grade clerical job and must even have other duties to warrant a GS-4. The Position Evaluation Division has reviewed these positions within the last three months. The level of proof reading will not improve until reclassification has been accomplished."
